No Sweat Parenting / Manāki Whānau

Brilliant entertaining kōrero with Pio Terei or Pio and John Cowan.

Tackle the problems in our society at the root by building healthy, happy families.

Practical and fun ways to build love, communication and good boundaries in families.

Flexible format to suit various audiences.

A range of presentations to choose from.

The problems in our communities are complex; they have many causes, and many possible solutions. One thing is clear; children who get lots of love and support, coupled with firm clear boundaries, are least likely to have problems; and parents with good skills are least likely to use violence.

No Sweat Parenting / Manāki Whānau is designed for Māori but is also very popular with Pasifika, Pākehā and other cultures.
